

DR. W. H. BUCHER DECLARES RADICALS NEED WATCHING

On Account of Its Fine National Characteristics He Believes
It Will Be Redeemed—Has Appealed to Rockefeller
Foundation to Preserve Student Body

Dr. W. H. Bucher of 124 South Brand boulevard, who returned in April, 1920, from Vladivostok, Russia, where he had been sent with a naval expedition, says that affairs have reached a terrible pass in Siberia! that conditions of suffering are so appalling that observers have simply become calloused to distress they are powerless to relieve. He has learned this from authentic sources of information with which he has kept in touch. The only Americans left in the desolate reaches of that far away portion of the world are at Vladivostok, which is scourged with cholera in summer and with typhus in the winter.

The doctor thinks the great tragedy of Russia is its inability to take care of the people who will be so sorely needed in the time to come—the student body which is being gradually wiped out because there is no way to give young people educational advantages. So impressed is Dr. Bucher with this phase of the situation that he has made it the subject of a communication to the Rockefeller Foundation which is now looking into the matter. His plan would be to bring a lot of young Russians to this country to be educated in our universities during the time when Russia rehabilitates herself and has need of such citizens as leaders. They would be all the better prepared because imbued with American ideals and practicality.

Most of the refugees, the doctor says, are now in the City of Harbin in Manchuria, China, where there has been a complete upheaval of the social order which has leveled all ranks. He cited the case of a Russian of his acquaintance, a woman of advanced culture and learning, speaking five or six languages. She had been the wife of the governor of the Province of Kiev, but has lost husband and son in the struggle and is now stenographer for one of the electrical companies in Harbin. With this overturning of the social order has come a struggle for mere bread—the compulsion to take any work, menial or otherwise, that will provide food and shelter. Girls who were daughters in families of wealth and who had perhaps taken two or three years in medicine or law in the universities (for those are favorite professions with Russian women) have been driven to manual labor. The marvelous thing, to the doctor, is that these Russians do not lose courage, do not cease to love their country nor to hope that some day she will be delivered. Of their wellspring of strength the doctor says:

"They are a religious people and constantly appeal to the deity for guidance. The Bolsheviks tried to raze the churches and to destroy religion, but found them too deeply entrenched in the Russian life to be thus uprooted.

"I have great faith in the Russians as a wonderful people who have many fine qualities worthy of imitation—long suffering patience, power of concentration, study and constancy of purpose. I was impressed by this last characteristic when I began to study the Russian language and had a teacher

LEWIS W. M'GEE LONELY FOR HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. McGee of South Isabel street, have just received a letter from their son, Lewis W. McGee, who is connected with the American Relief expedition in Austria. The expedition is manned entirely by men from the United States Navy who have been selected for this work because of special fitness and aptitude for detail in the exercise of missions of this nature. The younger Mr. McGee states in his communication that conditions in Austria are not as alarming as in some other sections of Europe, and food is obtainable at fairly reasonable prices for those in a position to purchase. Plain food can always be had, but luxuries come high.

Commenting on the larger cities, Mr. McGee dwells at length on the remarkable condition of the public parks and playgrounds. According to the writer, these are veritable beauty spots and are kept in fine shape at all times.

He expects to be in Austria for some weeks to come, but is lonely for the good old U. S. A.

PILOTS SEEK REST AT BIG BEAR LAKE

After having successfully piloted the Glendale Elks' Bugle and Drum Corps through the various and sundry parades of the Convention, Capt. Jack Rockwell and Lieut. George H. Blix of the Glendale Fire Department have decided to cast off the mantle of responsibility and recuperate in the mountains for a few weeks. It is to be hoped that all fires will be postponed until their return from Big Bear, the place selected for their outing. Being accomplished anglers these men have always brought home the limit of one thing or another and with that in mind have requested that all orders for trout be left at the fire station pending their return. Only one fish will be allowed for each order. First come, first served.

Owing to the fact that reports have come in relative to the prevalence of the Mongolian Mud Turtle whose bite is almost always fatal, Capt. Rockwell has obtained at great expense a supply of spiritus omnibus the famous Oriental antidote for poisonous bites, stings, etc.

They will leave Sunday morning by auto accompanied by their faithful hound "Orpheus."

AIR IN THIRD STREET TUNNEL IS VERY DANGEROUS

That the Third street tunnel in Los Angeles, which is frequented by automobilists from Glendale, stands as a menace to human safety, because of the heavy fumes of carbon monoxide gas which accumulate there, is the assertion of Patrolman George Daniels, sergeant-at-arms to the city council, who yesterday declared that on Thursday night following the Elks' parade, the tunnel was almost untenable.

According to Daniels, who was directing traffic at the time, a blockade of traffic occurred that held up automobiles in the tunnel for an hour and filled the place with poisonous gases from their exhausts. One woman with a baby, he declares, was forced to abandon the machine in which she was riding and seek the outside air.

That this matter could be easily remedied by the installation of a ventilating system is the announcement of City Engineer Griffin. He states, however, that the Los Angeles city council has on several past occasions refused to act on the matter, despite petitions from various business organizations.

MR. AND MRS. NEALE ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Neale entertained a party of friends and relatives yesterday who had gathered by invitation to attend the various entertainment features of the Elks' convention. After witnessing the parade in Los Angeles, the party motored to Long Beach, where they enjoyed the special features put on by the beach city. Returning to the city, they witnessed the electrical pageant and arrived in Glendale late in the evening. Those who had the pleasure of enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Neale's delightful hospitality were: Mrs. Amy Ripley, mother of Mrs. Neale; Mrs. Gertrude Jones and Mrs. Bertha Poirot, sisters of the hostess; Miss Georgette Poirot, of Illinois; A. B. Van Deelin and Marion Jones, of Los Angeles, and last but by no means least, the husky and voluble Jack Clifford Neale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neale.

Mrs. James Eibel of Glendale and Mrs. Norton of Los Angeles attired as gypsies and ensconced in artistically gotten up booths told the fortunes of those who chose to peer into their futures. Brahm Van den Berg, the noted musician, as a visitor at the lawn fete was introduced to the guests present.

Every effort will be made to get the building under construction at an early date.

SOLDIER VICTIM OF CUPID'S ARROW

Owen Emery and Miss Alice Virginia Becker Married Yesterday Afternoon

There was a ring of the telephone bell and when it was answered a voice at the other end that sounded the note of happiness and self satisfaction, announced: "I was married at 2:45." The voice was that of Owen Emery and inquiry developed the fact that his bride is Miss Alice Virginia Becker who has lived in Los Angeles for a number of years and who is prominent there socially. Rev. W. E. Edmonds officiated at the wedding which was celebrated at the home of the groom's parents at 324 North Kenwood. Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery and family, Miss Lily Berry, sister of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wells of this city were the only witnesses of the marriage which took place in a floral bower of palms and pink hydrangeas. The bride was gown in blue tulle and wore a corsage bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses.

There were no attendants. A pink and green color scheme was carried out in the floral decoration of the Emery home for the event and in the refreshments served following the ceremony. The young people left the same afternoon for a honeymoon trip and will spend the month of August at the beaches. The first of September they will return to make their home in Glendale.

Owen Emery is a rising young attorney prominent in social and American Legion circles. His many friends here will be glad to welcome him to the ranks of the benedictins.

MARCELLA MILLER'S ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Leonora Miller was hostess at a charming theatre party followed by a luncheon at the Marcella in Los Angeles, Thursday, at which the engagement of her daughter, Miss Marcella Miller, to Donald McLeod, a young civil engineer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McLeod of East California avenue, this city, was announced. The guests, for the most part, were members of the sorority to which Miss Miller belongs at the Southern Branch, University of California, where she has been taking a course in domestic science. The beautifully appointed table was centered with a basket filled with flowers of many sorts and colors, the dominating color of the tea room furnishings—American Beauty rose—featuring the candles, the basket favors and other accessories. No announcement has yet been made of the wedding date, and other functions for the bride-elect are in prospect.

BUILDING FUND IS MAKING PROGRESS

Charles B. Guthrie, at the head of the church building committee of the Congregational church, reports excellent progress being made. Part of the money is already in hand and it is expected that the rest will be raised when the vacation season is over, so that building can commence in the early fall. A very attractive plan has been adopted, the main building facing on Central avenue with a wing extending to the south, for Sunday school purposes, with an entrance on Wilson avenue, a tower at the angle between the two sections.

SPEEDOMETERS ARE NOT GOVERNORS FOR SPEEDING

Commenting on the veto which Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles yesterday stamped on the proposed ordinance providing that all motor vehicles capable of being operated at a speed in excess of fifteen miles per hour should be equipped with speedometers, Judge F. H. Lowe this morning declared that it was manifestly impossible to cut down on speeding through the enforcement of such a measure.

There is no speedometer made which will record accurately for a very long time; consequently to comply with the law it would be necessary to have the speedometer tested at frequent intervals and this would be both an inconvenience and an expense to automobilists, Judge Lowe pointed out.

It is also questionable whether or not the requirement to equip automobiles with speedometers would decrease the number of speeding cases; my experience has been that a speedometer does not act as a check on a driver's desire to travel fast; it is entirely possible for the motorist to determine whether he is exceeding the speed limit without reference to a speedometer, the judge said.

The fact that such an ordinance is local, being confined to Los Angeles, would effect a decided inconvenience since a great many automobiles from surrounding parts of Los Angeles and the remainder of the state, observed Judge Lowe, pass through that city daily.

KABER VERDICT WILL PRECLUDE CHANCE FOR A PARDON

(By International News Service)
COURT HOUSE, CLEVELAND, O., July 16.—Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber is saved from the electric chair.

The twelve men who sat as her judges today found her guilty of murder in the first degree as an archconspirator in the murder of her husband, Daniel Kaber, but recommended mercy. Branding her own sex as "merciless," she had fought to bar women from the jury.

A verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy, carries with it a penalty of life imprisonment.

Mrs. Kaber lay in her jail cell in a stupor when Judge Bernon arrived to receive the verdict.

The court was undecided whether it would be legal for the jury to render a verdict while she was unconscious.

Judge Bernon announced the convicted woman will be sent to the Ohio reformatory for women, at Marysville, O., to spend the rest of her life. The verdict precludes all opportunities for pardon.

The attorneys for both sides expressed satisfaction with the verdict. "We are pleased," said Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton. "The woman was guilty. She will be locked up where she can do no harm. Justice was done."

The woman's chief counsel, William J. Corrigan, said: "We could expect nothing less and we are grateful it was not the electric chair. The woman is not responsible and it would have been a crime to sentence her to death."

MR. AND MRS. MURDY HOME AFTER THEIR HONEYMOON TRIP IN EAST

Paris Murdy, who was sent to New Jersey by his shipmates to represent the battleship Mississippi at the Dempsey-Carpenter fight and who stopped at Montgomery, Ala., long enough to annex Miss Virginia Hines as a life partner, has returned to Glendale, and he and Mrs. Murdy are now guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. M. Paul Jones, on East Elk avenue. The young people have had a fine honeymoon trip and were entertained in Boston by Mr. Murdy's brother, who is connected with one of the big oil companies operating in Mexico.

SEVERAL NEW TEACHERS FOR CITY UNION HIGH SCHOOL

Eugene H. Barker Elected to Head Mathematics—Art and Commercial Instructors Chosen—Big Enrollment Expected—Board Working on Budget

Several meetings have been held recently by members of the High School Board of Trustees to take action on candidates for vacancies in the teaching staff, most of which have now been filled.

One of those elected was Miss Dorothy Gilson, graduate of Glendale High and later of the University of California. She has been employed in the Oregon Agricultural College and last year was instructor in Latin and a student in advanced French at Stanford University. She will be the new French teacher here.

Miss Mabel Murphy was elected for commercial subjects. She is a graduate of the School of Commerce of the University of Nebraska. She has had experience as a teacher in Nebraska, Iowa, and Olympia, Wash.

Miss Harriet Switzer was chosen for commercial English, industrial history, and commercial arithmetic. She is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and of the Minneapolis Business College, who has had experience as a teacher of regular high school subjects in North and South Dakota and commercial work in Montana and Arizona.

In the election of Eugene H. Barker as head of mathematics the board feels that it has cause for congratulation. Mr. Barker was a high school principal for a number of years and then was made head of the department of mathematics at Polytechnic High in Los Angeles. For the past three years he has been one of the coast representatives of the publishing house of Allyn & Baker. He is coming back to school work because the other employment takes him away from home too much. He is one of the best known school men in the state and the author of three books on mathematics that are much used in high school and college work.

Misses Jeanette Abel and Esther Crandall were elected to the Art Department. Miss Abel was graduated from the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco and has also studied at the California School of Arts and Crafts in Berkeley and is highly recommended by Mr. Meyer, director of the school, as a very talented young woman. She has had special training in free hand drawing and arts and crafts.

Principal Moyses states that there will be a few more teachers to be elected to take the overflow of work in the several departments not yet provided for. This overflow cannot be determined until the enrollment of new students by subjects is more definitely determined. Based on the number of graduates from the grammar schools of the district and the percentage of students who may be expected from the new families that have moved to Glendale, a freshman class of 275 to 300 may be counted upon and easily bring the enrollment to 1200.

The board is now considering the budget for the coming year pending the receipt of budget blanks from the office of the county superintendent of schools. It must be filed by the first of August. The extra funds received from the state will be a considerable help to the local school.

FORD PLANT BUILDS 108,962 IN JUNE

During the month of June, the Ford Motor company, through its Detroit factories and twenty-two assembling plants throughout the country, reached the production of 108,962 Ford cars and trucks, setting up a new high record for one month.

Production of Ford cars and trucks has been steadily increasing since spring, and shows substantial gains over the same period last year. The second quarter of 1921, viz., April, May and June, shows an output of 301,796 Ford cars and trucks against 220,878 for the same three months of last year, or a net increase of 80,918.

The estimated output of the Ford factories for July calls for 109,000 cars and trucks, or a production of 4360 a day for 25 days. Since the

GOODRICH TIRES ARE SPECIALLY FEATURED

"Tires are going fast," says H. M. Butts, of the Monarch Supply company, local dealers for Goodrich tires. "A short time ago we received a shipment of Goodrich tires, and now that the price has dropped, many motorists (some of whom do not need tires for a long time) are laying in a supply."

"The reason for this, I assume, is that they are Goodrich tires, backed by the Goodrich guarantee and are selling at such a low price."

Assembling of cars is being handled during an eight-hour work day only. The hourly output will be 545 cars. In other words, one Ford car or truck leaves the assembly line every 6 1/2 seconds.

FAITH IS BASIS OF SUCCESS IN BUSINESS

In these days, when croakers are abroad in the land, when here and there we encounter the business pessimist who backs us into some doorway, regardless of the consideration that we are busy, and pours into our ears his theory that "business is bad and is going to be worse," there is one great asset for which we are thankful, and that is FAITH.

When we come to think about it, what kind of a world would this good old planet be without faith? What would happen if over night some mighty force could take from the child its beautiful faith in mother, could extract from you and from me the faith we hold in our fellowmen, could drag out by the roots the faith we have in our country, could wrench from our souls the faith we have in God? What a sinister coloring it would give to life. And yet, is there ever a day that some weak-kneed, spineless cynic does not waylay us to expound his views of business depression? We have more respect for the pickpocket. Rather than let him rob your gold and silver than let one rob you of your peace.

Take the letters "simis" from the word "per (simis)" and you have a very fitting definition. The man was right who said, "It is better to be an optimist and wrong, than to be a pessimist and right."

Yes, sir; business is picking up, thank you. Reports from all over the country indicate a prosperous year. Don't let the band of highwaymen rob you of your faith, for without it no battle has ever been won. No great achievement in the history of the world has ever been attained without faith. No business has ever been built without faith. It is God's own gift to man. Keep it, treasure it, use it, and success, happiness and prosperity are yours.—American Automobile Digest.

MISSOURI HUNTS FOR OLDEST MALE TWINS

SEDALIA, Mo., July 16.—Who are Missouri's oldest men twins?

The Chamber of Commerce Centennial Committee is in receipt of a message from George and David Upton, seventy-two years old, who are bachelor twins. They were born in Missouri, but have been residents of Hood River, Oregon, for the past fifty years.

The elderly gentlemen express much interest in the plans which are being made to celebrate the one hundredth birthday of the State of Missouri, which will be held in Sedalia from August 8 to 20.

Some of the Uptons' relatives, who live in Missouri sent in the name of George Upton. An invitation was sent to him; also a centennial button. George immediately wrote to the centennial committee requesting a button for his twin brother and added that he would like to hear whether or not Missouri can boast of any more men twins older than he and his brother.

GIVES UP HUSBAND TO OTHER WOMAN

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 16.—Mother love won out over the love of a wife for her husband in one of the strangest "eternal triangles" ever revealed in the Chicago courts.

Mrs. Lynn N. Hitchcock "gave" her husband away to the "other woman" that her children might not suffer from a faithless father. She was granted a divorce here, with custody of her two children—John, eight, and Evelyn, seven, and $10 a month alimony. Hitchcock will marry the "other woman."

Mrs. Hitchcock blamed her marital troubles on the fact that her husband was a "traveling salesman."

"I gave up my husband for my children," she explained. "The mother love was greater than my love for my husband. The other woman may have him now."

"If I had insisted on living with him he might have starved me and my children. I wouldn't want them to live under the stain of a faithless father."

"He was always loving and dutiful until he went on the road as a traveling salesman. Then his whole attitude changed. He met this other woman—Myrtle, he called her—on one of his trips. She was his affinity, I suppose."

"It was hard at first to decide. It seemed impossible to give him up. I knew a lot of women would have wanted to punish him for wasting my love. But I couldn't do that, for the love of my children was greater than that. There is no love greater than mother love."

SILVER MINE FOUND IN PENNSYLVANIA

(By International News Service)

KINZUA, Pa., July 16.—Kinzua is on the verge of having a new boom. In the days when lumbering was at its height around here, the lumbermen made things lively—Volstead and Wayne Wheeler were unheard of then.

Now this little town, some miles south of the New York state line from Salamanca, is awakening. Everybody is getting excited over silver. Even the conservative are taking notice. They expect soon to see mules and prospectors streaking through the nearby forest fastness searching for traces of silver and the mother lode.

This week several men visited Warren Pa., and asked a local hardware store to construct them a furnace. They had samples of ore which they declared they had secured from the hills near Kinzua. They had the ore assayed and they report it was pronounced sufficiently high grade to be produced in paying quantities.

In the early days, Warren county had silver mines that supplied the Indians with the silver beads they wore. There is hardly a section of the county that does not have legends of ancient mines from which the Indians obtained their silver. The hidden lodes have never been found.

An old legend has it that the Indians used to make their gods of real silver. The mine was as fabulously rich as that of the Incas and Montezuma. One tribe had the secret of this great treasure house, but guarded it very closely. Then one day, as the tale goes, the earth slid and blotted out both mine and operators.

At any rate, folks around Kinzua are again dreaming about fabulous riches.

IMMIGRATION LAW BENEFITS CANADA

(By International News Service)

MONTREAL, July 16.—"The United States has more or less, closed the door to European emigrants," said Colonel J. S. Dennis, of the Canadian Pacific Railway and a recognized authority on immigration and colonization. "What will the effect be on Canada?"

"Canada today is in much the same position that the United States was in at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Its population at the commencement of the twentieth century was much the same as that of the United States at the beginning of the nineteenth. Its great farm areas need settlers to grow food to feed its growing cities and to provide traffic for the great railways."

"Never was Canada in such a position to choose the best kind of citizenry from troubled Northern Europe. Undoubtedly much of the immigration that was headed to the United States will be diverted to Canada—a type of immigration that has rarely been available to it before."

"Today Canada can get the pick of Europe—the people who wouldn't dream of coming if the world were in a settled state. They are the kind it can choose carefully and place on its empty farm lands with a maximum of confidence that they will make good."

"Now those United States citizens of foreign origin whose relatives and friends through the immigration restriction act are debarré, can invite them to join them in Western Canada."

WINS DIVORCE AND ALIMONY SPEEDILY

(By International News Service)

OMAHA, July 16.—Justice wore the sandals of Mercury here in Circuit Court when Mrs. E. John Brandeis noted Chicago horsewoman, was granted a divorce from E. J. Brandeis, Omaha merchant prince, within twenty-four hours. Mrs. Brandeis arrived here from San Francisco one Sunday evening and the very next evening left here for the coast—a divorcee.

Cruelty was the cause of action. It served to win Mrs. Brandeis $400,000 alimony and custody of her nine-month-old baby. There was no salacious testimony, no cross-examination of witnesses and no "hard feelings." Thus was justice enacted.

"Ervine has been cruel and negligent to me," the young wife testified. "He has spent little time at home. He has spoken harshly and gruffly to me."

A maid corroborated her. That ended the testimony.

Brandeis, who is twenty-three, did not contest. The entire proceeding took only half an hour. Judge Wakeley signed the decree.

A certified check for $50,000 was handed the newly divorced wife. She left the courtroom with her lawyers. Several hours later attorneys for Brandeis brought $350,000 in securities to her hotel room. Just at dusk that night she began her trip back to the Coast.

Meanwhile Brandeis, who has never seen his child, announced through his attorney he would take a year's hunting trip to Africa.

The new building will not only be the largest building in Japan, but will also be the largest office building between the Suoz Canal and America. It is to cost $4,000,000 and will face the Tokio station plaza.

Jailed On Way to Altar

(By International News Service)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 16.—"There's many a slip 'twixt the ring and the knot!" sighed George G. Johnson, as he languished in jail. George was to have been married at 8:30 o'clock on a certain recent evening. Miss Ethel Lavison, the bride-to-be was dressed and awaiting the gallant George, when the telephone announced that George was "detained" at police headquarters.

Dressed in her wedding white, the bride pleaded for the release of George on bond, but to no avail. He was held on a charge of misappropriating funds of an electrical company.

RICH MAN UNABLE TO FIND LODGINGS

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, July 16.—Billionaire, banker, coal king, ship owner, Hugo Stinnes, the richest man in Germany, is unable to purchase a residence in Berlin. For the past year, Stinnes has made his home, while in Berlin, in the Hotel Adlon. His suite cost him not quite a million marks a year.

The Berlin Wohnungsamt, as the department which issues permits for tenants to occupy lodgings, is named, refuses to grant Stinnes the privilege of a Berlin residence because he maintains the old family homestead in Muelheim on the Ruhr. Three times the Stinnes scouts have found suitable dwellings for the German Croesus. Three times Stinnes has asked the necessary approval of the "Wohnungsamt" and had some thousand-mark-a-month clerk refuse his request. The last deal was for a beautiful mansion on the Bellevuestrasse, but the Wohnungsamt refused assent.

The Wohnungsamt is omnipotent in Germany. It is empowered to billet families of Russian emigrants in the finest mansions. A landlord can neither raise his rent nor evict a tenant without permission of this august body. Your own mother-in-law can't get permission to live with you if the Wohnungsamt refuses. You can't rent a house or apartment, even if both you and the landlord agree, if someone whose name is ahead of yours on the Wohnungsamt list objects.

The Stinnes millions have so far been powerless before this socialistic institution. Although he owns the big Excelsior and exclusive Esplanado hotels in Berlin, Stinnes prefers to remain in the Adlon, where he gets the same service as any other guest, until the Wohnungsamt is convinced that Germany's foremost business man needs a Berlin dwelling.

BETRAYED GIRL TAKES MERCURY

(By International News Service)

BALTIMORE, July 16.—She isn't pretty, but in spite of a retousse nose and a heavy sprinkling of freckles, Virginia Hicks is attractive, even though her face is drawn with pain and the hope for death. She is hoping against recovery at the Maryland General Hospital here, having taken bichloride of mercury tablets. It was because of a man—a man who promised her a home and marriage; a man who didn't make good.

"It's because I'm homely," she said. "Men look only for beauty. They're all alike. I never want to see one again. I want to die. The only man I want to see is God!"

In spite of herself she is getting well. Virginia is only twenty. She is one of those girls who dream of a home and baby—and keep on dreaming in their trustfulness. She will not tell the name of her betrayer.

Virginia's condition, when she entered the hospital, was critical. She has now passed that stage, and her speedy recovery is anticipated.

WM. H. HOOPER TALKS ON TIRE INFLATION

When not properly inflated, tires readily rim cut. Particularly is this true over rough places where the rim chafes and bruises the fabric. Under inflation also means an unequal tension in the fabric plies making up for the carcass which results in chafing, fabric separation and ultimately in a blowout.

While it is quite true that an under inflated tire is more elastic and more resilient, the motorist pays dearly for this. Loaded, the under inflated tire by reason of increased hinging action near the rim and at a sharp angle, is often more or less de-vulcanized or softened by the resultant heat.

It pays big dividends, in freedom from tire trouble, to rigidly observe the inflation pressure recommended by the manufacturer. It is so simple a matter, requiring only a moment, but the motorist has no one but himself to blame when he neglects to test his tire pressure with a gauge.

If the car owner wishes to obtain the maximum mileage built into a tire, he should pay heed to this timely warning against under inflation according to Wm. H. Hooper, local Miller tire dealer. Inflation is the first cardinal principle of tire conservation. If you do not have a tire gauge, purchase one today. Even after trouble has begun, prompt action in repairing the injured casing will greatly prolong its life.

VININGS, Ga., July 15.—"Wow! Wait till I kill this big snake, yelled W. B. Kinney, third trick block telegrapher of the W. & A. Railroad, at the dispatcher's telephone as he was reporting a train. His eyes registered horror as a four-foot rattlesnake came writhing through the door into the office. Kinney bombarded the reptile with about everything movable in reach, finally smashing the snake's head. Long continued drouth has emboldened snakes, who are desperate in their hunt for water.

HOW I WOULD BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

"If I started out to buy a motor car," C. R. Anders, sales manager of the local Velie Agency, told our automobile editor, "I would invest the maximum amount of money I could afford to pay."

"It is seldom that great value is found in very cheap articles, and in buying a motor car each step up the price scale as a rule gives the buyer added value far in excess of the increased price."

Any car will get there and get back, but for the man of means and business standing to recognize no other sort of value is as absurd as it would be for a banker to go to his office in overalls, simply because they covered his nakedness.

Having thus decided upon a general price class I would ride in and drive the various cars in that class, because performance cannot be described, but must be experienced.

Having further narrowed my field of choice, I would next compare the finish appointments, beauty of line and up-to-dateness of style, because it is from such things that one derives that "pride of ownership" which makes a motor car such a prized and intensely personal possession.

Next I would want to know of the stability of the manufacturer. Had the organization been in business for a considerable number of years? Were they financially strong? Were the cars built one, five, ten years ago giving satisfaction in the hands of the owner? Had the car shown consistent development and improvement from year to year?

And having arrived at my decision in this logical manner, I would then order my car and enjoy the pleasures that only a motorist know.

Two new Velies have been delivered by the local agency during the week, one to J. A. DesNazes of Tujunga and one to W. L. Truitt of Glendale. Mr. Anders also reports the sale of five used cars during the week, indicating a general realization that automobiles have reached their low level and that further reductions are not to be expected.

BAD EGGS LOOK AS GOOD AS GOOD ONES

A woman bought a dozen of eggs from a "friend," 10 cents below the price her groceryman quoted. When she broke the shells, four of the eggs were bad. So the eight eggs she got cost her more than the groceryman's price for twelve eggs.

Some people buy tires the same way. They look no further than the surface and give no thought to the construction. But when these bargain tires "break" out on the road, far from a service station and home, it is then that the costly mistake is noticeable.

POLICE AUTHORITIES WILL "PINCH" ALL EVADERS OF THE MOTOR LAWS

This is the season when police authorities throughout Southern California are going to consider "pinching" motorists who evade the law. Small evasions are going to be considered along with major offenses; penalties will be imposed for minor offenses as well as for reckless driving.

Officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California in a desire to help motorists as far as possible in their knowledge of what is unlawful, at this time, have just issued the following list of suggestions.

Look them over and see if your car and yourself come up to all the specifications required in the laws of this state, which apply everywhere:

Are your number plates securely fastened on the front and rear of your car?

Are they at least sixteen inches above the ground?

Are they fastened so as to prevent them from swinging?

Are either of the number plates so mutilated so as to render them unintelligible?

Is either number plate obstructed by a bumper or tire carrier?

Are the names of the registered and legal owners signed on your certificate of registration?

Is the certificate of registration posted in the container furnished for it by the department, in the driver's compartment of your car?

Do you carry your operator's license with you at all times while operating a car?

Is it signed?

If you are a chauffeur, do you carry your chauffeur's license with you and wear your chauffeur's badge in a conspicuous place on an outer garment while operating a car as chauffeur?

Are your headlights equipped with an approved headlight lens?

Are your headlights equipped with bulbs of a candle power approved for the type of headlight lens used?

If the type of headlight lens used requires a tilting of the headlights, are your lamps so tilted?

If your car is equipped with a spotlight, is the spotlight so constructed that it cannot be manipulated from the driver's seat so that the main ray of light will rise more than 42 inches above the ground when measured at a point at least 100 feet in front of the car?

Is there a red light on the rear of your car?

Is it obstructed by a bumper or tire carrier?

Is it visible at night 300 feet to the rear of the car?

Has it a white light illuminating the number plate so that it can be seen at night from 50 feet to the rear?

Is your horn or bell in working order?

Is your car equipped with a siren? (Sirens legal only on police or fire vehicles.)

Are your brakes of good working order and of sufficient strength to stop the car or to hold it on a grade?

If your car is a truck which is so covered, loaded or constructed that it obstructs the driver's view of the highway to the rear, is it equipped with a rear sight mirror?

If your car is a commercial vehicle, is it equipped with an adequate windshield?

Do you carry baggage or other equipment on the left running board of your car so that it extends more than 12 inches beyond the body of the car?

COURTESY IS CHIEF FACTOR IN SELLING

"Lincoln was right." This was a statement made by Joe Murphy, local Sheridan dealer to the auto editor of the Press.

Now that there are so many cars on the market, some good, some bad and I might say some indifferent, the buying public is exercising every precaution before purchasing a new car. This brings people in and out of the dealers place and if treated courteously they are certain to appreciate it.

Courtesy is one of our best selling points and we try to make every prospective customer our friend.

We will say Mr. Smith steps into our sales room to see the new Sheridan and after showing him the different features and giving him data, he says he has heard favorable comment on another car, we immediately tell him to jump in, and we will drive him down and introduce him to the local dealer of that car.

Figuring it anyway, if we make the sale or not, we have made a friend.

AUTO KNOWLEDGE REWARDS OWNERS

"The first duty of the automobile owner is to know his car," says W. O. Farr, local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"He should learn the basic mechanical principles of its construction and operation. He should familiarize himself with those parts which commonly require attention."

"Automobile design has been greatly simplified in the last few years. Almost anyone can learn all that is essential to the proper care and operation of his car. And this is one of the reasons for the popularity of the medium weight car of today."

"It is profitable to acquire this knowledge. With it, the automobile owner can save himself much time and inconvenience."

"He will find many minor adjustments that he can take care of himself. He can often save unnecessary examination of his car by experts. He can anticipate and prevent and thereby eliminate trouble almost entirely."

"For most motor car troubles are the direct result of ignorance and carelessness. Knowledge is the proper preventive measure."

"A minimum amount of intelligent attention will keep a car running better and longer. And an intelligent driver will operate his car so as to avoid unnecessary wear and tear."

"The automobile, in its way, is as responsive to treatment as the human body. And if any ailment develops the most prompt and sensible attention is the quickest and best remedy."

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

If the 44,065,000 tires manufactured during 1920 were piled on top of one another the tier would be 2,784 miles high—a distance almost as great as across the continent. These tires if set tread to tread in single file would reach 23,353 miles or nearly around the earth.

The horn isn't the only part of a car that requires blowing. Tires should be blown up too or they will automatically do it themselves.

Rubbing with sponges and chamois should be done in straight lines rather than in circles. To prevent water drying and spotting, it is well to clean one panel at a time. Avoid applying chamois, and especially the sponge with any great pressure, and do not rub after surface is dry.

The French Government purchased 52,000 of the 70,000 automobiles left in that country by the American Expeditionary Force.

IDEAL WEEK-END AUTO TRIP

Truly the fisherman's paradise! Easy of access and wonderful in the towering grandeur of its mountains, and its icy torrents, is the range of Santa Suzanna mountains, lying northwest of Los Angeles.

One of the most ideal spots in California for the camper and motorist, and noted throughout the Southland, is Sespe canyon, in the heart of the Santa Suzanna range.

The best of "California's good roads" leads to the mouth of the canyon, and a dirt and gravel road carries the motorist into the wilderness of rocks and pines, deep, shady gorge, and mighty mountains, that well merit its name to all beholders as California's "Garden of the Gods."

In reaching Sespe, the motorist passes over many scenic drives and points of interest. Leaving Glendale, the San Fernando road leads through Burbank and San Fernando, past the world-famous Sylmar olive orchards, and that marvel of engineering skill, the Los Angeles aqueduct and reservoir. Then on through Newhall tunnel to Saugus, where the road divides and branches off to the left. Four miles farther on, the Auto Club of Southern California has the road posted, directing the traveler to Fillmore. From Fillmore, a ride of two miles reaches the canyon road.

The canyon itself is a wonderland of deep pools and splendid grounds for camping.

Approximately, the round trip is one hundred miles.

VELIE

GIVES YOU MOST FOR YOUR CAR MONEY

At the reduced prices recently announced VELIE cars give more value for every dollar invested, we believe, than any other automobile, regardless of price.

VELIE cars are made by one of the largest, oldest and strongest industrial organizations in America. You can feel assured in buying a VELIE that years hence, as well as today, VELIE cars will set a standard of automobile values, and that your car will never be an "orphan."

VELIE cars require but little service, but such service as you may desire is always available—anywhere, any time—for the VELIE organization is widespread in its scope and efficient in operation. VELIE cars command high resale values, because for eleven years Velie has been building good motor cars, possessing unusual endurance and operating at minimum cost.

Yet, today, the VELIE MODEL 48, with its handsome Velie-built body, and its standard, time-tested mechanical units, can be bought for less than any other car using the famous Continental 7-R Motor and Timken Axles.

The power, riding qualities and other elements of performance of both the Models 48 and 34 cannot be described, but must be experienced.

To that end we ask that you phone or call to arrange for a ride in a VELIE—to drive it yourself—and put it to the tests that you require of a motor car.

SATISFACTION IN LIFE

Among the many shiny pearls of wisdom cast before the college graduates last month, there is one from the lips of President Burton of Michigan University which is especially worth considering. "To know the deepest satisfaction in life you must become creative workers," said the university president to the graduating class. Every citizen might well take that injunction to heart.

But how, the average citizen may ask, can a man standing at a machine in a factory all day, or writing figures the day long at a desk, create anything new? A shoe is made by a dozen different hands, each man holding it in a certain way in a certain machine. The tailor cuts the cloth but once and machinery moves the garment on to the next worker. There seems little chance for creative work there.

But, after all, an employee is in the shop or factory or office but eight or nine hours a day. The man who holds a shoe a particular way in a machine or cuts cloth a certain way has other hours to spend, hours when he is mingling with other men or is at home. And they are, after all, the most important hours of his life. It is usually at such times that he moulds his character and makes of his home either a joy and inspiration for his family or permits the baser side of human nature to develop.

It matters not a great deal where a man spends his eight or nine working hours if the remainder of his time is spent at some task or pleasure which gives him full play of his creative faculties. It may be only a flower bed or a back-yard garden, or it may be a hobby which calls for his inventive genius, his capacity for making his mind and fingers work together. A man, as head of his family, may create a unit in society which will be a benefit to all. The notion that one whose daily labor is at a machine is deprived of all opportunity for creative work is one which should be dispelled. It is true, as President Burton says, the deepest satisfaction in life comes from creative work.

Hot Weather Coolers

The strawberry season is at its height. While they are expensive, good strawberries are rarely cheap in the city markets, and certainly the berries are splendid this year. Use them as freely as you can, for the season is short.

There is no nicer way to serve them for breakfast than with the stems on-surrounded a tiny mound of sugar.

My next-door neighbor makes a strawberry beverage that was particularly delightful on the hot days we have been having the past week.

She calls it Strawberry Cocktail and prepares it as follows:

Mash 1 quart of strawberries, add juice of 1 orange and 1 lemon, 2 cups of sugar and 5 cups of water. Stir well and let stand two hours on the ice. Then train through a fine sieve and then through a bag. Put into tall glasses. Add three sliced strawberries and a very little shaved ice to each glass.

A very lovely dessert is known as Strawberry Mousse, although it is not a genuine mousse, which is much smoother and richer. It is prepared with 1 quart box of strawberries, cut fine; 1½ cupful of rich milk, 1 cupful of heavy cream and 1½ cups of sugar. The berries must be mashed and let stand overnight, with sugar. In the morning rub through a sieve and add the milk. Fold this mixture into the cream, which should be whipped stiff. Cover tightly and bury in equal parts of ice and salt for four hours. Open and stir after the second hour.

A strawberry and pineapple preserve that is very excellent is a one-two-three recipe. To each cup of pineapple 2 cups of strawberries are added, with 3 cups of sugar and just a drop of water. Make a syrup of the sugar and water, using just enough water to dissolve the sugar in. Then add the fruit and boil until the juice answers the test for any preserve. Cook in small quantities, and the preserves will be much better. Can when cold and the berries have absorbed some of the juice.

Pineapple Ice Cream
3 pints thin cream.
½ cup sugar.
1 pint can grated pineapple.
Add the pineapple to the cream and sugar; let stand for one hour and freeze.

Strawberry Ice Cream
3 pints thin cream.
2 cups sugar.
2 quarts berries.
Wash and hull the strawberries; sprinkle them with sugar and let them stand. Hash thoroughly; mix with the cream and freeze.

Peach Ice Cream
3 pints thin cream.
2 cups sugar.
1 quart sliced peaches.
Cover the peaches with the sugar; let stand, mash and add to the cream and freeze.

Orange Ice
2 cups sugar.
1 quart water.
Juice of 5 or 6 oranges.
Grated rind for 2 oranges.
Boil the sugar and water for ten minutes; add the juice and rind and let stand until time to freeze. Strain and freeze.

POPULAR SCIENCE

Potato flour has been added to American products by war. It is not as substitute for wheat flour, as it costs twice as much, but when combined with wheat flour in the proportion of two per cent. or more, the bread obtained keeps fresh longer, has a pleasant nutlike taste, with a crust of better bloom and crumb of fine texture. In the American Food Journal, O. J. Yogy states that, while the United States imported 25,000,000 pounds of potato flour in the year preceding the war not an ounce was made in this country or Canada. With the call for wheat substitutes, mills rapidly sprang up for making potato starch and any form of ground up potatoes, but it was ruled in August, 1915, that the name potato flour cannot be applied to potato starch, but only to a powdered product containing fat, fiber and ash of the edible portion of the potato in addition to the starch. There are now mills in Michigan, Colorado, Maine, Wisconsin and Minnesota, making high grade flour from under-sized or second-grade potatoes. The first machines for such flour were built in Germany in 1903, and the real flour making industry developed there in 1907. A tenth of that country's production of potatoes was used in 1911 for manufacturing. Machines consuming 1200 to 3000 pounds of potatoes an hour clean the tubers, peel them, cook them under steam pressure, mash them, dry them, grind the flakes, and bolt the powder through the silk cloth. Five pounds of potatoes yield one pound of rich cream colored flour, which is really only whole potato in concentrated form.

Reinforced concrete railway sleepers and electric transmission-line poles are being used in China, an account of timber scarcity. The sleepers are reinforced with old mine cable, are cured under water and are used to replace wooden sleepers on old tracks where the roadbed is well settled. The poles, tapering and square in section, are cast horizontally. They are forty and fifty feet tall, hollow for most of their length, and have some reinforced rods extending above and below to serve as lightning conductors.

OF INTEREST TO MUSICIANS

The "shimmy" music produced by the modern jazz bands, with their wailing saxophones, acrobatic drummers and muted cornets, may have taken the country by storm, but it has no appeal to a man in Washington whose opinions on many subjects are earnestly listened to by 105,000,000 people.

His opinion on the question of music is worthy of consideration, for he used to play in a band out in New Caledonia, Ohio.

He is the President of the United States.

Not for him are the braying trombone, clashing cymbal and all the other jazz equipment to which America today is toddling around in innumerable dance halls. Rather the graceful strains of the "Blue Danube," or the "Merry Widow Waltz."

Investigation disposed that President Harding has never been able to regulate his musical sense with the syncopation of modern jazz. He likes good, light music. His favorite operas are "Erminie," "Robin Hood," "The Bohemian Girl," and others of the type that were so popular a decade ago.

He also likes his musical dish flavored now and then with a little of the heavier stuff such as "Aida," or "Madame Butterfly."

But jazz? No.

BOY SCOUTS AT PARADE

A fair-sized delegation of the Glendale Boy Scouts was in attendance at the parades during the Elks' convention in Los Angeles. Too much credit cannot be given to this organization for its efficient work on occasions of this nature.

A demonstration of their excellent training in first aid and emergency work was exhibited in the parade Thursday, when a lady spectator fainted from excitement. Four of the scouts immediately formed a hollow square with their staffs, thus effectually barring all congestion about the woman while other Scouts administered first aid treatment. Their work was soldierly and dignified and brought forth many comments from the onlookers. The businesslike methods of these boys, who were mere children of ten or twelve years of age, spoke volumes for the great work of the Boy Scouts' organization.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

(By International News Service)
LINCOLN, Neb., July 16.—One life was lost and thousands of dollars damage resulted from a choudburst which struck Andrews, Neb., late yesterday, according to word received here today. Hundreds of cattle were swept to death, while growing crops were inundated. Mrs. John Andrews, 30, was killed when the flood carried away her home. Her body was found lodged in a tree a half mile from her home.

SEATTLE, July 16.—Mrs. Clarence L. Reames, wife of former Assistant Attorney General Reames of Washington, and former United States Attorney at Portland, ended her life at one o'clock this morning by inhaling gas in their home. Her husband had been away during the afternoon and evening with friends. Mrs. Reames left a note which the police did not make public. Ill health is believed to be responsible for her act.

TRISECTION OF AN ANGLE IS SOLVED

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—One of problems of geometry, which for years has been a favorite puzzle of mathematicians, has been solved by a soldier.

Captain Terrill E. Price, aide to Major-General Charles H. Muir, commander of the Ninth Corp area of the United States Army, has trisected an angle with dividers and a right-angled ruler.

The announcement was made by General Muir, following reports that an Eastern mathematician had solved the problem, "but was not ready to announce his method." Captain Price is a University of Pennsylvania honor student in mathematics.

Captain Price has not only effected a solution of the problem, but his diagrams and particulars of his achievement are on file with the War Department. General Muir stated. Briefly, here is Captain Price's solution:

To trisect an angle with dividers and right-angled ruler:
Draw tangents to its sides at equal distances from the angle. Measure the distance from the side of the angle to the intersection of the tangents. Lay off twice this distance on a straight line and trisect it. (Using the regular geometric method for dividing a straight line into any given number of parts).

Lay off the resulting third on each tangent separately, measuring from the side of the angle toward the intersection of the tangents. Connect the angle with the two points thus obtained by straight lines.

Trisect the chord from the bases of the tangents already drawn and draw points to the angle. Bisect the second and fourth of the five angles now formed from the original angle. These bisecting lines will trisect the original angle.

To prove the result correct:
Lay off equal distances from the angle on its sides and on the trisecting lines. Connect the nearest lines at these points with straight lines. The results will be triangles whose sides have been constructed equally, and whose bases will be found to be equal by actual measurement.

Therefore the three triangles are equal, and the three central angles are equal (being similar angles of equal triangles). And as the three central angles which are equal taken together form the original angle, the original angle has been trisected.

HERE'S A GEORGIA SNAKE STORY

(By International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., July 16.—Mother birds feign broken wings and legs, a mother cat will fight for her kittens, mother dogs also will fight, other animals have various means of defending their offspring, but Georgia has a snake that is absolutely original.

There are, if it is true, no corroborative witnesses to back up this story and it has been mighty hot in Georgia this summer, but the man who told the story is a city clerk of Atlanta and is believed to be one of those mysterious reliable sources you read about, so here's the yarn:

Walter Taylor, city clerk of Atlanta, got it in second-hand shape from the eye-witness, Joe Epsom, who lives at Salt Springs, so says Walter. Joe tells the story like this:

"A few days ago," said Mr. Epsom, "I was near the well on my place when I saw a large blacksnake coming down a path. That wasn't extraordinary, but a second look convinced me that here, now, was something worth looking into. Ten tiny little baby snakes were playfully following the big snake. I hid behind a tree and watched.

The mother snake was moving faintly. Her mouth was open and she was panting. Every once in a while she would stop and fan herself briskly with her tail, in which she had a large oak leaf. It was evident she had come a long way for something and was about all in. The day was unusually warm.

"The snake made her way wearily to the well and, with great effort, climbed to where a bucket of water was standing on the structure. The baby snakes formed a ring around a hole about the size of a soup dish in the ground. It was plain she had come for the purpose of watering her family.

"Mother snake wrapped her tail around the bucket and strove to turn it over. She couldn't. Then she grasped the bail and tried again, but it again was too much for her. She stopped and scratched her head with her tail, trying to think of something else to do. Suddenly an idea struck her. She stood on her head and dipped her tail into the bucket, then removed it and allowed the water to drip into the hole where her babies were waiting. She must have repeated that operation a hundred times, but the hole was finally filled. Then she descended and gave the babies a lesson in drinking. She had done all this without taking a drink herself.

"Her duty to her family completed, the old snake wearily dragged herself once more to the bucket and by an almost superhuman effort sank her head in the water and drank.

"Where is the man who can bring in a snake with greater devotion to its children?"

COLORADO RANGERS FIGHT "LOCO WEED"

(By International News Service)
DENVER, July 16.—"Keep the Cattle from Going Crazy!" will be the motto of the Jefferson County Livestock Association, recently organized by stockraisers in the South Park section of the Pike National Forest, forty miles west of Denver.

The new organization was formed in an effort to put a stop to the wholesale eating of "loco weed" by the cattle in that section of the State.

J. H. Hatton, assistant district forester and livestock expert, connected with the United States Forestry Department, says that the loss of cattle and horses in the South Park section has become so heavy in recent years that stockmen declare they are threatened with bankruptcy.

The "loco weed" is one of the greatest menaces to the stockraising industry in the West, according to cattlemen. The weed resembles alfalfa in the shape of the leaf and size of the plant, but usually is white or purple in color. Because it grows luxuriantly in the Spring and Fall, before and after the Summer grass thrives, cattle on the open ranges eat it for lack of anything else. Although it has practically no nutritive value, the "loco weed" generates an appetite for it, after the cattle have browsed a few times on the weed, they eventually refuse to eat anything else. They become so "dopey," and poor that they are valueless as beef and hundreds die annually from malnutrition.

The new association will co-operate with the Federal Forestry department in keeping cattle off the "loco ranges" until Summer grass is plentiful, in the hope that the menace can be removed.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

TUJUNGA LOSES SUIT FOR PARK

The Western Empire Suburban Company as defendant was given judgment in the suit brought against them by certain residents of Tujunga who contended that under terms of an old agreement a section of land in Tujunga was set aside for a public park and over which the land company now claims to have jurisdiction.

More than fifty witnesses were called to testify in the case which came up before Superior Court Judge York. It is understood that the Western Empire Suburban Farms Company will turn the land over to the Catholic Church for the erection of a mission.

CLINIC ON MERCY MISSION TO INDIANS

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—On a mission of mercy to the Indian tribes of Northern California, an elaborately equipped medical and dental clinic, mounted on a powerful motor truck, has left here for Redding, Cal., where a route will be laid out to reach even the most remote rancherias of the numerous tribes in Shasta, Lassen and Modoc counties.

Following completion of the northern California visitation, the truck will proceed to other parts of the State inhabited by Indians.

In recent years the Indians have been ravaged by pestilence and frequent famines. Only recently the Shasta Indians made a plea that they be allowed to kill deer out of season in order to provide themselves with food.

This clinic, provided by the Indian Board of Co-operation and the Department of the Interior, will carry a physician and a dentist. California State departments have provided two nurses to visit the California Indian tribes.

20,000 Need Aid
There are about 20,000 Indians scattered through forty counties of the State in 300 bands and groups. It is anticipated by those arranging the itinerary of the clinic party that the work will take many months.

Word will be sent to all Indian bands in the county in which the clinic is engaged that they may be expected a visit from the party. The head men of each band will be asked to arrange for the treatment of all their people who need medical aid and dental work, so that he work of the clinic staff may be done promptly upon arrival at each community.

The leaders are already being urged to encourage their sick friends and neighbors to accept the aid of the "white man's" doctors and nurses, and to make known to their people that the mission of the big white automobile is one of friendliness.

Bigamy Spree

(By International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 15.—Young married men should take their wives with them when they go away from home, according to J. B. Adams, arrested here for alleged abandonment of his wife and child at Syracuse, N. Y. He faces a bigamy charge here. He married his second wife, Adams told police, while on a "spree" and didn't know it until he became sober.

"Bunk," declares Mrs. Gertrude Kelly Adams, wife number two. "He knew what he was doing, all right."

How About Antidote?

While on a hunting trip up in Kern County, L. G. Scovern of the L. G. Scovern Company of 1000 South Brand, had an adventure with a rattlesnake which for a time looked as though it might result seriously. Mr. Scovern's first knowledge of the proximity of the rattler was when he unknowingly slipped his foot under the body of the reptile.

Visions of a swift strike from the snake and the resultant tragedy with the sorrowing friends in attendance flashed through Mr. Scovern's mind as he looked down at his foot. Taken so completely by surprise and nonplussed by the situation, he made no effort to dispatch the rattler until the latter had started off into the brush. His freedom was short-lived however for, although he put up a desperate fight, he was speedily dispatched by Mr. Scovern and Joe Anderson his brother-in-law who was with him on the trip. The rattler was brought into Glendale and when measured was found to be more than four and a half feet in length.

Shortly after this adventure, Mr. Anderson ran foul of another snake of the same variety, but of smaller proportions which he killed with a shotgun.

Dr. Bucher Says That Radicals Need Watching

er who became provoked because I had forgotten a word. He asked why I didn't know it and how many times I had repeated it. When I told him 'ten or twelve times' he said: 'When I study a language I say a word over one hundred times until I get it.' They are hard students and have great facility in acquiring languages, which is not entirely due to their adaptability but rather to their persistence. They acquire everything, when shown, in the same manner.

"When I left the hospital at Irkutsk I thought the American Red Cross hospital was about as highly developed as one could expect it to be in a foreign country, but the physician to whom I turned it over, a young Russian who had been in our service a year and gradually acquired American ways of doing things) in the course of a week or ten days had made many improvements in a scheme we thought was well high perfect. He had done this by using his power of concentration and applying it in American fashion.

"That is what Russia needs, the mingling of such types of executives who can point the way to do things. Therein is Russia's weakness and we might receive from her people in return some of their outstanding virtues—their concentration, power of study, their idealism.

"It is better that such an experiment as is going on there should be tried out on a stage like Russia than anywhere else in the world. Bolshevism will not last but something will grow out of it. The reports I have had of Lenin from people who have been in contact with him indicate to me that he is honest in his convictions. One Englishman with whom I talked who had a conference with Lenin came away from it with the idea that the man was a genius in being able to handle love and respect for his ideas. The Englishman said he had seen the peasants stop and kiss the ground where Lenin had passed a short time before in Moscow, and Bolshevism took on the sanctity of religion and had its devotees.

"It is a sad thing to look back and see all these flowers of Russian civilization being destroyed. No matter what the criticism of the Czar's regime may have been, it did put forth some wonderful types of civilization, not only in music and art but in the professions. That has all been cut down in the chaos that has broken out.

"The Russian peasant, illiterate though he is, when presented with a proposition in which the elements of right and wrong are to be determined, with his limited power of understanding does remarkably well in seeing the truth. He has travelled far with the little light that has been given him.

"The whole trouble has been the wide gap between the upper and the lower classes. The middle class has been almost negligible. This gap has grown to such an extent they scarcely realized how great it was.

"It was across this bay from Port Arthur at the time the citadel fell during the Russo-Japanese war and a ship came into the harbor of Chefoo flying signals of distress. On this ship were a number of Russian officers' wives and a lot of wounded, three of four hundred of them, who had been sent out from the fort because of the fear of Japanese outrages. On visiting that ship I heard one of the ladies remark that Port Arthur should have held out much longer, and to judge by her appearance—healthy in every respect, clad in sealskins even to sealskin boots—one could well imagine her class had not suffered severely; but on going to deck below where the wounded were, many of whom had never received attention from a doctor and were going around with fractured skulls and discharging wounds. I found them suffering from scurvy showing the lack of proper food. Their submission under the most intense suffering was wonderful. There you have the picture, the Russian lady on the upper deck representing the upper class not being cognizant of the suffering going on beneath her very feet."

The doctor has recently toured the state of California in charge of a traveling clinic for the California Tuberculosis Association. In connection with this professional work he has studied the economic situation and he has heard utterances by various types of people that would lead one to suppose part of the infection that has caused so much disease in Russia is not missing here, said he: "Even though it is in a mild form it is well to take a good look at Russia and see the terrible disaster that has followed in the wake of too much radicalism, and consider our own problems in a different light from that which has caused Russia to suffer so much."

Dr. Bucher was in the United States navy before the Spanish American war, in which he served, and has been in active service since 1910. He is now on the retired list of the navy and is in practice here.

OBITUARY NOTES

ALFRED HOLGATE
Yesterday morning, with little warning, death claimed Alfred Holgate, who had come with his wife to Glendale only a few days before to take possession of a new home they have built here. He passed away at the age of 71 at the home of his son, Henry E. Holgate, 703 East Palmer avenue. He was born in England and had been a resident of the United States for eighteen years. Three sons survive him. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. The Jewel City Undertaking company will be in charge and Rev. E. E. Ford will officiate.

CLYDE TRAVIS
Clyde Travis, a visitor to Southern California, died yesterday at the Glendale sanitarium after a very brief illness. Mr. and Mrs. Travis had been spending several days at a beach resort, when Mr. Travis was taken ill. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but in all probability, Mrs. Travis will go east with the remains of her husband. The body is now at the L. G. Scovern company's establishment on South Brand.

CORSICANA, Tex., July 16.—Fire which started early yesterday destroyed the bank, postoffice and several dry goods and grocery stores in Trinidad, near here. Telephone connections were destroyed by the fire but last reports stated that the entire business section of the town was in flames.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

POULTRY RANCHERS ARE ENCOURAGED

On poultry ranches where egg production is good, poultry conditions are more favorable; eggs tend upward in price and feed shows a tendency to decline. Even so, the margin of profit is exceedingly small.

Hens yielding a low percentage of laying are kept even now at a loss. Profits may be obtained only when your hens lay over a long period; early moulters who are bringing the flock average down should be culled out. A falling off in number of eggs received at this season is the natural consequence of early moulting, caused by improper care and feeding, and the problem confronting the poultryman during the next three months is how to make moulting easy for the hens, thus shorten the period and promote laying.

There is good money in producing eggs in quantities at any time. There is better money in producing them when most flocks are falling off in eggs. Do not let your hens get in poor condition this fall, but have them laying when eggs are scarce and high.

If your birds do not get enough of the egg-making, body-building elements in their feed, they will draw it from their body-tissues till they "run down," then they quit laying and it takes twice the feed and trouble to get them back.
